

Look Who Lives in the Desert!
Adaptations 1

An adaptation is a special design in an animal's body that has developed over time to help it survive. Adaptations can serve many purposes such as protection or getting food. Some animals require special adaptations to live in the desert because it is such a harsh, dry environment. Read the book and using the animals below, fill in each blank with the one that properly completes the sentence.

tortoise
